Higher Education.
For Adults with Higher Expectations.

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE: THOMAS EDISON STATE COLLEGE

Thomas Edison State College, one of America's pre-eminent educational institutions, provides adults with access to the best choices in higher education. Cited as "one of the brighter stars of higher learning" by The New York Times and one of the top 20 colleges and universities in the nation in the use of technology to create learning opportunities for adults by Forbes magazine, Thomas Edison State College enables adults to build on their past achievements as a bridge to their future success.

The College offers the highest quality education to adults who have the inspiration, self-discipline and energy to complete a college degree despite the many conflicting demands of career, family and community. Founded in 1972, this world-renowned institution offers 14 associate, baccalaureate and master's degrees in more than 100 areas of study. Thomas Edison State College provides adults from every state in the U.S. and more than 84 countries with a wide variety of ways to complete a quality degree.

The College, its leadership and programs are a tribute to its illustrious history. A city, state and federal landmark, the College's Kelsey Building is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is recognized as one of the most important visual landmarks of the State House Historic District. Originally built by Henry Cooper Kelsey, a banker and politician with an appreciation for the arts, the Kelsey Building was dedicated to his wife, Prudence Townsend Kelsey, who died in 1904. The building was dedicated in 1911 as the School for Industrial Arts. In 1979, when Thomas Edison State College was looking to move from office space it had outgrown in the Forrestal Center outside of Princeton, N.J., the state was looking for an appropriate tenant for the landmark Kelsey Building, while the city sought to preserve the building's historic use as a school. All three concerns were brought together when state Senate President Joseph P. Merlino persuaded Gov. Brendan T. Byrne that along with five adjoining townhouses, the Kelsey Building was ideal for College expansion.

Today, Thomas Edison State College's presence has expanded throughout the capital city. The College's Trenton, N.J. campus embraces the Kelsey Building at 101 W. State St., the Academic Center at 167 E. Hanover St., the Kuser Mansion at 315 W. State St.—home of the John S. Watson Institute for Public Policy, and five restored historic townhouses adjacent to the Kelsey Building. This facility comprises five nineteenth-century townhouses that have been restored to their original architectural style. They house the College's newly designed distance learning support, development and delivery facilities, as well as electronic classrooms, computer labs and educational conference and training rooms.

Thomas Edison State College, however, isn't contained by bricks and mortar. The College's reach is felt by all those who strive to create a better future for themselves and for their communities. In the true spirit of inspiration and innovation, Thomas Edison State College will continue to reinvent the future of higher education throughout the new millennium.

Arnold Fletcher Award

The Arnold Fletcher Award recognizes Thomas Edison State College baccalaureate graduates for exceptional achievement in nontraditional learning. Students selected for this award have demonstrated excellence and have earned a large number of credits using one or more of the innovative learning modes recognized by the College: Portfolio Assessment, Guided Study, testing programs, independent study courses, credit for courses taught, military training programs evaluated by the American Council on Education, courses/training programs evaluated by the American Council on Education, licenses/certificates/registries, and Nursing Performance Examinations.

The award is named in honor of Dr. Arnold Fletcher, vice president for Academic Affairs at Thomas Edison State College from 1973-1983.

The Nomination Committee is composed of the associate dean of Liberal Arts Degrees, associate dean of Business Degrees, associate dean of Applied Science and Technology Degrees, associate dean of Human Services Degrees and the associate dean of the Nursing Degree Program. The vice provost and academic dean has chosen the following students to receive the Arnold Fletcher Award at the October 12, 2002 Commencement.

Bachelor of Science in Human Services degree

Academic Heraldry: The Symbols of Learning

While the current code concerning the types of academic regalia to be used by colleges in the United States dates from 1959, distinctive academic dress dates from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. The college or university commencement procession today is a pageant, alive and bright with dress and ceremony derived from the tradition of the oldest universities.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages—in Bologna and Paris, Oxford and Cambridge, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Louvain—first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, where the bachelor was the apprentice of the master, and the dress was color-coded and patterned according to the academic level and discipline. In the hierarchy of the academic world, the associate's degree is the modern entry point. Its equivalent in the guild of teachers was that of a junior apprentice. Twelfth-century records of Oxford University state this justification for academic dress: "It is honorable and in accordance with reason that clerks to whom God has given an advantage of the lay folk in their adornments within, should likewise differ from the lay folk outwardly in dress."

There are three principal features of academic dress: the gown, the cap and the hood. Their design and heraldry were, from as early as the eleventh and twelfth centuries in the great European universities, the outward sign of the bringing together of students and privileged persons under the same discipline.

To preserve their dignity and meaning, it early became necessary for these universities to set rules for academic dress. American universities agreed on a system in 1895 and set up a suitable code of academic dress for the colleges and universities of the United States. In 1932, and again in 1959, the American Council on Education revised the code which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today.

THE GOWN. The flowing gown comes from the twelfth century. Many think it was worn in olden times as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. The associate's degree gown is grey. The gown is black for all degrees above the associate's, with pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree; oblong sleeves for the master's degree; and bell-shaped sleeves for the doctor's degree. For the bachelor's and master's degree, the gown has no trimmings. For the doctor's degree, it is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains. More recently, the official colors of Thomas Edison State College, burgundy and cream, have been used in the gown and its decorations.

THE CAP. When Roman law freed a slave, he won the privilege of wearing a cap. Thus, the academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book, although some authorities claim that the mortar board is the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. The color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The associate's cap is grey. Caps for master's and doctor's degrees are often black, but may appear in other colors, as well, depending on the rest of the regalia.

THE HOOD. Since almost all of the students and faculty in the medieval universities were clerics (minor church ecclesiastics) and were tonsured (i.e., had shaved heads), the hood served to cover the shaved head from the cold of unheated buildings. Eventually, the hood was superseded by the skull cap and evolved into a headdress more or less like those in use today. Heraldically, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the college or university from which the degree was granted.

THE MACE. The mace—a heavy staff or club fashioned entirely of metal with a metal head—was originally a weapon of war. In the sixteenth century, it became a ceremonial standard and a scepter of office. It resembled the original weapon and was carried before officials at ceremonial occasions. It is still in use in the British House of Commons, where it lies upon the table before the speaker as a symbol of the authority of the House.

The mace of Thomas Edison State College was designed by the College and was inaugurated as the scepter of office at the October 1990 Commencement ceremony. It is a solid maple scepter with a two-sided medallion mounted to the head by a brass collar. There are three brass bands on the shaft, upon which the names of the College's three presidents and their terms are inscribed as follows: James Douglas Brown, Jr., 1972-1978; Lorraine Rose Matusak, 1979-1982; and George A. Pruitt, 1982-present. The mace shaft and base are finished in mahogany.

Carried in the procession by Dr. Maxine Lentz, the academic dean, the mace symbolizes the authority of the Office of the President.

Honorary Degree Recipient

The Honorable James E. McGreevey, Governor of the State of New Jersey

He has distinguished himself as a state legislator, as the Mayor of Woodbridge, New Jersey, and as Governor of the State of New Jersey. He led significant efforts to improve public services, government, and education opportunities in Woodbridge. He has fostered a public-private partnership that has brought thousands of jobs and millions of dollars of investments to New Jersey. He served with distinction in both the New Jersey Assembly and the New Jersey Senate, where he was a strong advocate for better and more ethical government, a cleaner environment, and quality health care for the citizens of our state and where he sponsored the Pollution Prevention Act and wrote the legislation to create a permanent New Jersey Commission on Holocaust Education. He served President Clinton as a member of his National Cancer Advisory Board, and is currently leading the State of New Jersey as its Governor. His dedication to the State of New Jersey and its citizens is clearly demonstrated by his public accomplishments and contributions.

America, the Beautiful

Music by Samuel A. Ward

Words by Katherine Lee Bates

O beautiful for spacious skies
For amber waves of grain

For purple mountains' majesties

Above the fruited plain.

America! America!

God shed His grace on thee

And crown thy good with brotherhood

From sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years

Thine alabaster cities gleam

Undimmed by human tears.

America! America!

God shed His grace on thee

And crown thy good with brotherhood

From sea to shining sea.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS' WAR MEMORIAL

The Trenton War Memorial on the Delaware River in downtown Trenton, N.J. has served the state capital and central New Jersey for 70 years. An architectural treasure listed on the National Register of Historic Sites, the memorial has served as a backdrop for some of New Jersey's top tier of society, business and entertainment.

The Soldiers and Sailors' War Memorial was planned by men who believed they were commemorating the war to end wars, the war that had made the world safe for democracy. Designed by architect William A. Klemann, the building was completed March 1, 1932. The formal opening and dedication, however, took place January 19, 1932, at the second inaugural of Governor A. Harry Moore.

Conceived as "a great community center," the Trenton War Memorial lived up to its planners' intentions from the start. The War Memorial has been the site for the inauguration of every New Jersey governor since 1932. Three Presidents of the United States have given speeches at the Trenton War Memorial: Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy. As an emissary of her husband, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt also made a speech in the theater. The roster of world-class artists and entertainers who have performed in the Trenton War Memorial includes Louis Armstrong, Leonard Bernstein, Johnny Cash, Bill Cosby, Duke Ellington, Bob Hope, Vladimir Horowitz, B.B. King, the Kirov Ballet, Peter, Paul & Mary, Frank Sinatra and Bruce Springsteen.

On January 12, 1988, both houses of the Legislature, while gathered at the Trenton War Memorial for Gov. Thomas H. Kean's State of the State address, heard a preface they hadn't expected. As he looked out over the faded auditorium, the governor proposed that New Jersey restore it. Backed by the city and county, the legislation was signed by the governor on August 31 and transferred ownership to the state, with the promise that the landmark building would be brought back to its former glory.

Nearly five years of meticulous restoration and renovation brought the Trenton War Memorial into the 21st Century while preserving and renewing the theater's Italian Renaissance-style elegance and grandeur. Reopened to the public in January 1999, following the $35 million restoration-renovation, the Trenton War Memorial is poised to recapture its place as central New Jersey's finest performing arts center and banquet-conference center.
